

AnimalHealthCanada

Animal Health Canada provides the needed platform for collaboration and sharing of information in the work of animal health and welfare in Canada.

Governments and industry continue working together to create a cohesive, functional and responsive farmed animal health and welfare system in Canada, and at the heart of the 2024 Forum is communication, collaboration, and cooperation among stakeholders.

But how has the AHC Forum evolved over the years?

At Animal Health Canada, we understand that collaboration is our strength. It is why we have taken the lead on building unprecedented collaborations between federal, provincial, territorial governments, and industry. Our structure gathers diverse stakeholder groups to work in a collaborative, multi-partner model to clarify respective roles, responsibilities, and accountabilities for all partners in farmed animal health and welfare.
